

Who uses an Anchor Ring by Ironwood Pacific?

The Anchor Ring was developed by Ironwood Pacific in the footsteps of the popular AnchorLift product. Fishermen looking for an easier way to raise their anchors needed something that could accommodate all chain or chain and rope combination anchor lines. Commonly used for saltwater applications the Anchor Ring is simple to use and effective at raising your anchor to the surface.

- Off shore anglers using long anchor chain and rope chain combinations like the easy to use functionality.
- Charter boat captains like the Anchor Ring because it slips over their anchor chain when they are ready to pull anchor and works to quickly bring their anchor to the surface.
- Anglers facing strong currents wanting an easier way to haul in their long anchor chain.
